European Commission, AAU announces a competition for teaching (1 place) or training (1 place) for 1 week at the Polytechnic University of Valencia.

The competition is open to those professors with excellent knowledge of English or Spanish who teach in the fields mentioned below and have previously collaborated with any professor of the Polytechnic University of Valencia:

- Agricultural engineering

- Environmental protection

Only AAU administrative staff, including finance staff and general administrative staff, can apply for training. We would like to inform you that the courses organized by the Polytechnic University of Valencia are paid, and the participation fee is 440-520 euros.

In order to participate in the competition, you should send the documents mentioned below in high quality PDF format to the leading expert of MCD S. Hayrapetyan (susanna.hayrapetyan3@gmail.com), and hand over the originals to the Department of International Relations.

- copy of passport,
- CV in Europass format (in English) (<https://europa.eu/europass/en>)
- proof of being an employee of the AAU (reference from the Human Resources Management Department),
- a letter of motivation (in English), in which, in the case of teaching, the specific field of teaching and the topics of teaching (at least for 8 hours) should be clearly indicated,
- if available, a document confirming knowledge of English or Spanish (B2 level).

The name of the electronic version of the documents must contain the name and surname of the applicant, as well as show the nature of the document (for example, CV_Name Surname).

The deadline for receiving documents is February 17, 2023.
